A Faith for Monday Morning

We hope to gain strength from our worship; we receive the Bread of Life and bring that blessing into our lives through the week. God ordained the Sabbath rest, the time of refreshment. The sacraments and the scriptures give us that strength. When we leave the place of worship, we do not put our faith to rest until the next time. Or at least I hope we don't!

We are "in the midst of a crooked and perverse generation" in the words of the Apostle. Note the tragedies in Colorado and Kosovo for examples. The world is the place where our faith is tested. When Paul told his friends that they were to shine as lights he used a very strong word. He did not mean the light as generated by a candle; he meant the light as shone by a star — a constant beam to shine in a dark and evil world. The world of Paul's time and our world today are not much different.

God does not work on a human timetable. The results of the light we share may not be seen in our time. The starlight takes many years to make its cosmic journey. A teacher often does not see the results of her efforts until years later. Our faith must be far-sighted, raised to the stars, when the results are hidden.

We are in a very evil world: Kosovo, Colorado, places foreign and domestic, and the list is long. Our day of worship is so important if we are to carry the light of Christ. The important thing is that we are to be bearers of the light. Jesus calls us to this every-day ministry of living, of loving, and of working in ways to reflect the light of God's glory — revealed in God alone.

Accolades came in April as Lotus Professional Services North America announced Ciarán Anthony as being named a member of the Lotus Achiever's Club for 1998. Vails Gate, New York

The Brotherhood's Council and Education Committee met at the Convent of Saint Helena, Vails Gate, New York in April. Much work was accomplished in an effort to draft a significant revision and updating of the community's governing documents (The Rule, Constitution and Customary) in time for presentation to the General Chapter during Annual Convocation in July. Notable on Council's agenda were the nominations to life profession of Charles Edward and Andrew, and Patrick Ignatius' request to make first vows was given a nod of approval. Associate David A Dean of Chicago was interviewed and approved for postulant-prospective status, and Council approved plans and a budget for the festivities celebrating the autonomy of the Sisters of Saint Gregory, which will take place at Graymoor during Annual Convocation in July. Council also approved Ellen's request for withdrawal from the novitiate.

The Education Committee continued its work on the third portion of the community's new education program. The first two sections, Gregorian Foundations and The Skillfulness of Shepherds will be augmented by Equipping the Saints. This volume will explore issues surrounding ministry development and discernment, taking as models saints from Lesser Feasts and Fasts. Each saint or group of saints exemplifies some aspect of ministry (for example, Starting a New Ministry, When to Say No, Dealing with Stress and Burnout, and Witness to the World). In addition to excellent reflections on each topic penned by Karekin Madteos, the volume includes excerpts from each saint's own writings (or supplementary material from the tradition). As the General Convention noted in 1994, by recognizing and commemorating these witnesses from the past, "their examples and fellowship continue to nurture the pilgrim Church on its way to God." While trusting that Equipping the Saints will serve the Gregorian community well, we also hope that others might find it useful as they grow in service of God and their fellow pilgrims.

Yonkers, New York

Province II held a Lenten Quiet Day at Saint Paul's, Yonkers, New York, on the Saturday following the Patronal Feast of Saint Gregory the Great. The theme was "Forgiveness" and featured meditations offered by Tobias Stanislas and Patrick Ignatius. Retreats provide the opportunity to sit alone in reflection or to chat quietly with one's brothers. The Holy Eucharist was celebrated by Tobias Stanislas and he used the occasion formally to dedicate the icon of Saint Gregory the Great which he had written the previous year. Saint Gregory's icon is one of five which currently grace the reredos at the high altar of Saint Paul's Church. Though the day began chilly and overcast, it developed into a fine early spring afternoon and provided the opportunity for those who wanted to stroll around the grounds to do so and enjoy the bright sunshine.

At the April meeting of the vestry of Saint Paul's, Yonkers, James was elected treasurer of the parish and Patrick Ignatius was elected as one of three assistant treasurers. James adds this new "hat" to the several others he wears, including that of treasurer of the Brotherhood for the past eleven years, and Patrick Ignatius is also one of the two wardens of Saint Paul's. The servant ministry takes on many and diverse faces, and Gregorian friars and sisters will often be found working behind the scenes in parish and diocesan offices, as well as at the Episcopal Church Center in New York City. We are constantly reminded and are always thankful that the charismatic gift of administration was first discerned by Saint Paul himself as among the fundamental expressions of the action of the Holy Spirit through God's people and in the church. [Rom.11:7]

Fessenden Recovery Ministries, Inc. has recently completed its incorporation. This "spin-off" of the Agapé Fund has evolved over the last two years. Fessenden House began as a residence for men living with AIDS, but as new treatments and therapies have become available, the population best served by the Fessenden House model diminished, and it became clear that new needs were emerging. Fessenden Recovery Ministries now provides a home — in the fullest sense of the word — for men in recovery (drug and/or alcohol addiction). The prayerful atmosphere at Fessenden House, the clear "house rules" and the fellowship of shared meals and living help provide the residents with support towards return to independent, responsible living. Christopher Stephen and Patrick Ignatius serve as staff of the House, and Tobias Stanislas is president of the board. We are also happy to announce that Bishop Catherine Roskam has accepted the position of honorary president. Fessenden House, named in memory of Bernard Fessenden, BSG, is also dedicated to the “Martyrs of Memphis” — Sisters of Saint Mary and two priests who served heroically during the Yellow Fever epidemic of 1878. By happy synchronicity, Saint Paul’s Church recently received as a gift the mid-19th-century wooden altar that had originally served in Saint Mary’s Hospital for Children in Manhattan (later moved to Queens). In the church there are no coincidences!

New York City

1999 brought Richard Thomas a significant change in his ministry. After nearly two decades as Assistant to the Secretary of the General Convention of the Episcopal Church, the restructuring of responsibilities within the Episcopal Church Center during the first year of the administration of Presiding Bishop Frank T Griswold created a new position which seems to be directly designed for Richard Thomas: Associate Liturgical Officer. He now works with the Rev Dr Clayton Morris, the church’s Liturgical Officer, and this new role gives ample scope for Richard Thomas’ gifts in the realm of sacred music and liturgical worship, while he continues his long-standing responsibility as Deputy Registrar for Consecrations. A third new hat has also come his way, that of Deputy to the Secretary of the House of Bishops, the Rt Rev Mary Adelia McLeod. And the year has barely even begun!

Thomas Mark has been formally ensconced as the new Assistant Secretary of the Convention of the Diocese of New York, and has been busily preparing for the session that will have met by the time you receive this edition. Tobias Stanislas, outgoing Assistant Secretary, is scheduled this year to serve as Chaplain to the Convention.

Tobias Stanislas was also busy working with the youth of the diocese this year. Taking part in the annual Acolyte Festival, he presented an “Instructed Eucharist” to a group of about forty acolytes, parents and friends, and then served as “Marshall of the Acolytes” and concelebrated at “the real thing” with Bishops Sisk, Roskam and Taylor, and Canon Jay Wegman, at the high altar of New York’s Cathedral Church of Saint John the Divine. The procession of over two hundred acolytes from all over the diocese, bearing banners from their parishes, stretched the length of the cathedral nave, and the festive service ended with a thunderous rendition of the theme from “Star Trek: The Next Generation”!

Camp Hill, Pennsylvania

Holy Week at the parish of Mount Calvary, Camp Hill, Pennsylvania was as busy as any other, and Luke Anthony was in the thick of things, as always. On Palm Sunday he had a role in a liturgical drama entitled "Today's Good Friday," which took place during the main service. He officiated at Stations of the Cross on Tuesday in Holy Week; led prayers and meditations each hour from 9:00 pm until 2:00 am before the Blessed Sacrament on Maundy Thursday; officiated at Morning Prayer and the Noonday office on Good Friday, as well as participating in the main service that day; and finished the week by being one of the readers at the early Easter Day service of Holy Eucharist. He also attended the Great Vigil service at Saint Stephen's Cathedral, Harrisburg. Susanna Bede made a guest appearance at Mount Calvary on the evening of Wednesday in Holy Week, presenting a slide show on Jesus' Passion as represented in art through the ages.

Salem, New York

Thomas Mark and James Dunstan — along with Virginia Mahoney, James Dunstan's mother — received full-page coverage of their new bookshop in the May/June issue of Adirondack Life, a magazine dedicated to the arts and events throughout the upstate New York region. Located in the village of Salem, in the Diocese of Albany, the Salem Old Book & Paper Emporium on Main Street has quickly become a Mecca for anyone interested in out-of-print books, first editions, rare and exquisite bindings, and other antique documents. If this is your interest, you may contact them directly via their toll-free number (orders only, please) at 888-534-5578, or through their email address: Libtyroc@albany.net.

Trenton, New Jersey

The Commission on Ministry of the Diocese of New Jersey sponsored a Day of Discernment during Epiphanytide at Trinity Cathedral, Trenton, and Robert James gave a presentation on the Brotherhood of Saint Gregory and the religious life. He reports that attendance was good and all went very well. He is now discussing calendar dates with a number of ECW groups in the South Jersey area which have asked him to come and speak to them about the religious life. Good work, brother — you'll become a Circuit Rider yet!

Eau Claire, Wisconsin

Traditionally, the Sunday following Easter Day is known as Low Sunday, perhaps because attendance is historically down due to the many events and services of Holy Week. But that was anything but the case at Christ Church Cathedral in Eau Claire, Wisconsin, over the weekend of April 9 to 11. In his role as Linkage Representative to the Diocese of Eau Claire, James traveled with Presiding Bishop Frank T Griswold and Canon Carlson Gerdau — Registrar of Consecrations — to Eau Claire for a weekend filled with activity and celebration. The occasion was the consecration of the diocese's new bishop, Keith B Whitmore, and the events surrounding it were planned to perfection by Dean Scott Kirby of Christ Church Cathedral, who was also the host to the events. Beginning with a pizza party for the Presiding Bishop which provided diocesan youth an opportunity to spend time with him, Friday evening continued with a dinner party for the bishop-elect and his wife, and the several bishops and other special guests, held at the Deanery (Mrs Heather Kirby was in her element!). The consecration service on the Saturday morning was packed to the rafters, with closed-circuit TV set up in the main chapel, the convention hall and the parish hall (James assisted Canon Gerdau and worked as the press officer for the event), and was followed by a giant procession led by a corp of bagpipers down the main street for a reception at the convention center! And the weekend was completed by a solemn high mass at the cathedral on Sunday morning, concelebrated by Bishops Keith Whitmore, Catherine Waynick (Indianapolis) and Bernhard Heitz (Old Catholic Diocese of Austria), together with Dean Kirby. James was chaplain to the new diocesan and Canon Gerdau was the guest preacher. It was truly a whirlwind event, but worth every minute and every mile!

Chicago

The ordination and consecration of the Rev William D Persell as XI Bishop of Chicago on Saturday, March 13, brought local and long-distance Gregorians out in force. Richard Thomas accompanied Presiding Bishop and Mrs Griswold and Canon Gerdau from the Episcopal Church Center in New York City — Richard Thomas serving as Deputy Registrar. Thomas Joseph, the Provincial of Province V, came up from Cincinnati for the weekend and Ronald Augustine and Gordon John represented the Brotherhood in the Diocese of Chicago, together with Associates Dennis Pattey and Joseph Gauss, and Mary Ann Croisant, a postulant-prospective to the Sisters of Saint Gregory. Health considerations forbade Edward Ramón's attendance. Friend of the community Deward Rahm conducted the diocesan children's choir. Though Richard Thomas' parish responsibilities required his return to New York on Saturday evening, Thomas Joseph stayed on and joined Ronald Augustine, Joe Gauss and Mary Ann Croisant at Saint Peter's, Chicago, for the high mass on Sunday morning, where Gordon John was Master of Ceremonies. "It was a fine affair," said Ronald Augustine of the consecration service, and the opportunity for fraternal fellowship is always greatly appreciated and enjoyed!

Postulant Peter Budde did a great job as facilitator of a provincial quiet day at the Church of the Atonement, Edward Ramón and Ronald Augustine's parish, on March 27. Attending were Thomas Joseph, Edward Ramón, Ronald Augustine, Peter, postulant-prospective Mary Ann Croisant; and Associates John Bell, Joe Gauss, and John Coyle. Gordon John hosted the province for dinner the night before, but was unable to attend the quiet day, as he had deacon school responsibilities, including getting Bishop Persell to the gathering of the diocesan deacon prospects. The province gathered for a solemn mass at Atonement for Palm Sunday, including an outside procession, complete with donkey!

Edward Ramón has begun an affiliation with The Miro Center for Integrative Medicine. His work as a hypnotherapist augments and complements the holistic approach the Miro Center has adopted. This integrative approach includes both traditional and nontraditional techniques and therapies, and above all emphasizes taking the time to build the healing relationship, rather than the hasty "fix-it" approach that has become so common in recent years.

Dennard, Arkansas

Last fall Damian-Curtis moved from Chicago back to his home in Arkansas. Some years ago he had been active in a house-church maintained by a retired priest but while he was living in Chicago the priest moved away and the house-church closed. Since Damian-Curtis lives in a very rural area — the closest parish church is 65 miles from his house — he has met with some interested Episcopalians in his area and is now working and praying with them to establish a local mission congregation there. He has discussed possibilities with Bishop Larry E Maze, the diocesan, who is supportive of his efforts; the bishop plans to pay a visit to the area and meet with the emerging congregation. Please keep Damian-Curtis and his faithful band in your prayers as matters develop.

He also has been busy with ecumenical services in Arkansas, and led Stations of the Cross at Saint Jude's (RC) in Clinton, where he also led the Good Friday service.

Michael David was thurifer at the service instituting Richard Flynn as Rector of Trinity Church. Trinity is the third oldest parish church in all of Louisiana, and the rafters rung with music organized by Michael David for an ensemble of two harps, brass quintet, flute, piano, organ and vocalists. While there for the institution, Bishop Hargrove blessed the Lyon & Healey concert grand harp, on which Michael David is seen performing in the accompanying photograph.

He also recently dedicated a mixed-media work "Archangel Michael," to the E P Watson Memorial Library on the NSU campus; and his large lithograph, "Four Maidens Enter the Garden of Delights" was included in the grand opening exhibit of the River Oaks Arts Center in Alexandria.

Members of five Episcopal religious communities, including the Brotherhood of Saint Gregory, met at the Franciscan Renewal Center in late February, beginning the process of organizing a new coalition. cuss practical issues such as vocational development, formation, training and education.

The church's canons define Episcopal Christian Communities as societies of Christians in communion with the See of Canterbury, living in voluntary commitment to a rule for life or a term of years. These rules vary considerably from one community to another, although there are many common points, the chief of which is prayer and spiritual discipline. Some rules require life in common; others adopt or adapt the traditional vows of poverty, chastity, and obedience; some embrace celibacy as an apostolic tool for ministry. Some rules encourage their members to live in the larger world, working like the proverbial

Other communities represented at this, the second such meeting, included the Community of the Paraclete, the Congregation of the Companions of the Holy Savior, Life in the Lamb Community, and the Third Order of the Society of Saint Francis. The combined membership of the communities represented totals just under 700, a significant resource for renewal and spiritual growth in the Episcopal Church. The Brotherhood was represented by Tobias Stanislas, Francis Andrew and Ronald Augustine — making BSG the only community to be present in three of the four orders of ministry!

April 9-16 found Richard Thomas in Willingen, Germany, serving as music director for the European Spring Chaplain’s Conference, sponsored by the Office of the Bishop for the Armed Forces. He was responsible for the planning, preparation and execution of five daily liturgies and the training and direction of the choir assembled for the conference. He was joined in this effort by Bishop Geralyn Wolf, who presented three daily meditations, and Bishop Cal Schofield, who was the preacher each day. Bishop Keyser, Suffragan for the Armed forces, presided and confirmed during the conference. Richard was able to visit the Church of Saint Helene in Korbac and the Frankfurt Dom.

Singapore

William Francis spent a month job-hunting and visiting with Stephen in Singapore. While there, he attended services, and was guest preacher, at the Garden Community Church, and enjoyed fellowship with Anglicans who worship there. He also had the opportunity to meet and visit with two local men who are considering vocations with the Brotherhood.

Dates to remember

This year's Annual Convocation will include two gala services and everyone is invited to attend both! As in the past, this year's Annual Convocation will be held at Graymoor, in Garrison, New York, and the major liturgies will take place in the Little Flower Chapel.

The Brotherhood of Saint Gregory's annual Festival Holy Eucharist will take place at 3:00 PM on Friday, July 23 when we welcome our new Episcopal Visitor, Bishop Rodney R Michel, as celebrant at his first Annual Convocation. The Rites of the Order will take place at that time and will focus upon those Gregorian friars making their Life Profession and First Profession of Vows. This year marks the thirtieth anniversary of the community's foundation.

This year also marks the birth of a new community of women in the Episcopal Church, the Sisters of Saint Gregory! A Festival Holy Eucharist celebrating the creation of this autonomous order of Gregorian sisters — until now functioning under the sponsorship of the Brotherhood as the “Companion Sisterhood of Saint Gregory” — will be held at 2:00 PM on Saturday, July 24, and will feature Bishop Catherine S Roskam, the sisters' first Bishop Visitor, as celebrant and preacher. In addition to the Rites of Life Profession and First Profession of Vows, this service will include the Rite of Institution of a Superior for the new community. Both services will be historic and everyone is welcome to come and celebrate with us!
